

The 2008 Canadian Francophone Games are forging ahead!

Edmonton, Saturday, August 16th, 2008 – The Edmonton 2008 Canadian Francophone Games are forging ahead and everything is going well in accordance to plans. Several activities are scheduled today.

The finals are being held in all disciplines except volleyball as the masculine and feminine gold medal matches will be held Sunday morning. The finals schedule is easily available under the heading Activities and Program on the Canadian Francophone Games website: underwww.jeuxfc.ca.

While visiting le Village des Jeux, don't forget to take in the family picnic scheduled from noon until 5 p.m. when a giant cake will be offered by the Campus Saint-Jean. Magic shows and musical performances comprise the program and are absolutely free and easily accessible to everyone. Furthermore, the medal presentation will be held at the Village des Jeux starting at 6:30 p.m.

At the end of the day, the arts finals will be showcased starting at 8 p.m. at the Heritage Amphitheatre, located in Hawrelak Park.
